Latin American Journal of Solids and Structures 3 (2006) 1

Preface

This issue comprises some selected papers presented at the Impact Loading of Lightweight Structures Conference, held in Florianópolis, Brazil, May 2005.

The conference resulted in a book with the same name published by Wessex Institute of Technology and edited by this author and Norman Jones, from University of Liverpool, UK.

I would like to thank all the participants of this conference and to the authors, who put effort in preparing the articles here presented. I am also indebt to the reviewers who expeditiously contributed in many ways to this special issue and to Prof. Norman Jones for his continuous support to the many aspects such an enterprise demands.
